

Look Up Rap! by Kay Greyson

These are the lyrics to the rap Kay created inspired by Look Up!

Watch Kay's video workshop (<https://youtu.be/oRi3iDoph30>) to learn more about rap writing. Can you add your own lyrics to the song?

People spending all day looking down at their phones
Don't wanna go outside just want to stay home
If I did that I would feel so alone
So I wanna go outside and see the unknown
I could build a rocket that would fly up to space
More than a trending topic I could be something great
The whole world awaits, we should go participate
Come see the sun before it's too late

Look Up, Look Around, Don't Look Down!

Maybe I could be a scientist, I don't know
Doing cool experiments to see something blow
There's so much to discover so much to show
On the run going fast no need to be slow
No need for WiFi and online connections
Need a new map for new directions
Too much to do too much to mention
We're young and life's fun, let's demand attention

Look Up, Look Around, Don't Look Down!
